

ABSTRACT

Insect and animal control water based concentrate and dilute compositions and method in which a polymer and solubilizer are selected to provide a cross-linked film with matrices of sufficient capacity for trapping and being plated by an active ingredient particularly methyl nonyl ketone and other ingredients for slow degradation by environmental factors and release the active ingredient in an area to be controlled.